ARBuckle ON

SUGAR'S FUTURE

NEWPAITZ, July 24.—A subcommittee of the house committee which is investigating the sugar trust called upon John Arbuckle, who is sick in bed at his summer home here, for a statement in connection with the stand of the independents as against the sugar trust.

Arbuckle told the congressional subcommittee that the only reason the interests had failed to agree and end the sugar war was because they feared the Sherman anti-trust law.

He stated that the war between the interests was not yet ended, and would not be while the American Sugar Refining Company controlled the sugar prices.

EDITOR TELLS OF VOTE-GETTING TACTICS

WASHINGTON, July 24.—Another side was brought out before the senate committee which is investigating the alleged corrupt practices in the election of Senator Lorimer, of Illinois, in 1909, when James Keeley, managing editor of the Chicago Tribune, testified today.

Mr. Keeley went into considerable detail before the committee of alleged attempts at the session of the Illinois legislature to purchase Democratic votes with which to re-elect Senator Albert J. Hopkins, Lorimer's rival.

SENATOR CHAMBERLAIN OUT
